RECOGNITION LIST

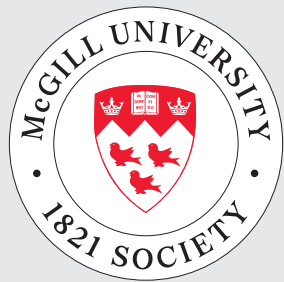

The McGill 1821 Society and the Macdonald Legacy Society honour those who give to McGill University through a legacy gift, such as a bequest in a will.

Their extraordinary commitment makes a powerful, lasting impact on the University. Whether they're supporting McGill's brilliant students, award-winning researchers, or the University's greatest needs, their generosity helps McGill build a better, fairer and more prosperous world.

McGill is grateful to all Legacy Society members for their support.

“I want to express my thanks and well wishes for the support I’ve received. Without every bursary, loan and scholarship, I would not have gotten this far. I am infinitely appreciative of your support, and I could not be more grateful.”

Cherry Chai, BScN’22

Recipient of the Isabel Clarke Dickson Woodrow Scholarship
